A Ship of Death Floats Into a Port of the Shetland Islands.

Since the time when the Ancient Mariner told the terrible tale of the curse-laden ship with her crew of ghastly corpses, no more thrilling story of the sea has been related than that of the whale ship Diana, that recently drifted into one of the Shetland Islands.

A year ago she left the Shetlands on a whaling voyage to the Artic regions, having on board fifty men. From that time nothing more was heard of her. The friends of those on board became alarmed. Money was raised and premiums offered to the first vessel that would bring tidings of the missing ship, but all to no avail. Hope was almost abandoned.

On the 2d of April the people near Rona's Voe, in one of the Shetland Isles, were startled at seeing a ghastly wreck of a ship sailing into the harbor. Battered and ice-crushed, sails and cordage cut away, boats and spars cut up for fuel in the terrible Artic winter, her decks covered with dead and dying, the long lost Diana sailed in like a ship from Deadman's Land. Fifty men sailed out of Lerwick in her on a bright May morning last year. All of the fifty came back on her on the 2d of April, this year; the same, but how different.

Ten men, of whom the captain was one, lay stiffened corpses on the deck; thirty-five lay helplessly sick, and some dying; two retained sufficient strength to creep aloft, and the other three crawled feebly about the deck. The ship was boarded by the islanders, and, as they climbed over the bulwarks, the man at the wheel fainting from excitement, one of the sick died as he lay, his death being announced by the fellow occupant of his berth feebly moaning, "Take away this dead man." On the bridge of the vessel lay the body of the captain, as it had laid for four months, with nine of his dead shipmates by his side, all decently laid out by those who soon expected to share their fate.

The survivors could not bear to sink the bodies of their comrades into the sea, but kept them so that when the last man died the fated ship that had been their common home should be their common tomb. The surgeon of the ship worked faithfully to the last, but cold, hunger, scurvy and dysentery were too much for him. The brave old Captain was the first victim, and died blessing his men. Then the others fell, one by one, until the ship was tenanted only by the dead and dying. One night more at sea would have left the Diana a floating coffin. Not one of the fifty would have lived to tell the ghastly tale.

Romantic Marriage—The Bride of Five Minutes Bids Adieu to Her Husband.

In the proper column of this paper will be found a notice of the marriage of Miss Emma P. Jones to Mr. William S. Anderson, which occurrence took place last Sunday morning, at St. George's Church.

This announcement will doubtless astonish many of the friends and acquaintances of the bride and groom. The young lady is a resident of Carthage, Ill., and was on a visit to some friends in this city. When she left home she had not the most remote idea of changing her name. The gentleman who was so happy as to meet his ideal of beauty at such a time, urged his case with fervid eloquence, and pleaded not in vain. This happened on Saturday evening. On the following Sunday morning a small wedding party entered St. George's Church, and two hearts were made one by the sacred bonds of matrimony. After the marriage knot was tied, the happy bridegroom told the bride that he was the son of an English nobleman; and possessed more than his proportion of this world's goods in his own right, without reference to "great expectations" of paternal inheritance. This fact he had hitherto studiously withheld, and the disclosure proved a delightful chapter of this romance of reality.

Another, and concluding chapter was to follow, which was not so pleasant to the contemplation of either of the twain made one, and contained a most unusual incident to such occasions. Indeed, it was the most romantic circumstance of this most romantic story. After the usual congratulations were over, the wedding party retired from the church. While on the steps of the sacred edifice, the bridegroom informed the bride and the astonished company that business of importance called him to our Western frontier, and that he would be compelled to leave immediately for Fort Riley. A carriage was in waiting into which he stepped, and bidding his fair bride adieu, soon vanished from sight. She did not faint, fall, and contribute to an exciting scene, for he had taken the precaution to whisper in her ear that he would be absent only five weeks, and advised her, in the meantime, to be as happy as she could, and make preparations for a voyage to England on his return.—St. Louis Republican.

—A young German lady of Muscatine named Emma Lioedecker, became so mortified over the treatment received by her mother at the hands of her father and brother, that she committed suicide by drowning herself on last Saturday. Leaving her room at four o'clock in the morning, she made her way to the river in nothing but her night clothes, and found death and relief from her sorrows in the waters of the Mississippi. She left the following letter on her dressing table: "No one is answerable or responsible for my death but my father and brother. I do not wish to live any longer, for my heart is breaking; I am exceedingly sorry for my beloved mother, but could not endure it any longer. Farewell, dear mother and sister. Dear sister, obey our mother, and cause her no grief. Farewell, farewell, on earth. I wish you much luck and happiness." The Courier speaks of the young lady as being a person of great amiability and well respected by many friends.

—They have a tough fellow in Lewiston, Me., or tell a tough story of one, to the effect that he fell from the staging of a house the other day, broke down two other stagings, fell thirty feet and struck upon his head, while a "heap of boards" and two bunches of shingles fell upon him; and then picked himself up and walked to his home, half a mile distant.

RETRIBUTION!

FOGLER EXECUTION TO-DAY.

Full Confession of the Condemned.

HIS FORMER STATEMENT REPEATED.

Montgomery and Others Implicated.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, PA., May 14, 1867.

The excitement over the execution of Fogler, which will take place to-morrow, runs high. Much feeling is manifested by the citizens, who feel that justice will be only half satisfied in the tragedy to-morrow.

Fogler is attended by the Rev. W. B. Watkins and J. D. Herr, Methodist clergymen, and Rev. Dr. Brownson, Presbyterian. He evinces repentance for his crime. The final religious services will be conducted in his cell, and at two o'clock will be led to the scaffold.

He has made a full confession, in which he reiterates the statement made at the time of his arrest, directly implicating a prominent young man of this borough as his associate and helper in the murder. He charges other persons with being in the original plot to rob Mr. Dinsmore. He, also, accuses a number of individuals with grossly deceiving him since his arrest, in holding out inducements to him not to involve other parties. His confession occupies twenty-seven pages of foolscap, and was written by himself in a clear and concise manner, hiding neither his own guilt nor that of his associates. It is thought a strong effort will be made by a powerful faction here to suppress this confession, but it will prove of no avail, as your reporter has a copy of it and will forward by mail.

[This confession will doubtless appear in to-morrow's edition.]

THE JEFF. DAVIS SENSATION.

He is Cheered and Congratulated by Negroes—Warning Dispatch to Judge Underwood—Davis En Route to Canada.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

RICHMOND, May 13.—As Mr. Davis came out of the Court House and entered a carriage, after his release, there was a loud cheer from a crowd of negroes outside, and about fifty of them gathered around the coach and shook hands with him. He remained quiet in the hotel all evening. He will visit Canada soon to see his children. The first name signed to the bail bond, after that of Jefferson Davis, is Horace Greeley's, then Mr. Schell's, of New York, and Mr. Jackman's, of Philadelphia. A little lower down is the name of John Minor Botts, of Virginia. The residents who signed were prominent citizens of Richmond, merchants and lawyers. There seems to be a general feeling of relief among the citizens and authorities that Davis is in the city.

It is stated that the Grand Jury has indicted Vice President Jno. C. Breckinridge, Judge H. W. Thomas, of Fairfax, and four others, for treason.

The following telegram was received by Judge Underwood in the court room, a short time before he admitted Davis to bail:

"Washington, May 13—To Judge Underwood—Beware of Greeley. Remember Libby Prison, Andersonville and Belle Island. Fifty millions are looking on and expect you to do your duty, while three hundred thousand patriots' graves cry aloud for revenge. [Signed] YOUR FRIEND."

Jeff. Davis, on his release, telegraphed to his brother, James C. Davis, in Mississippi, the fact, and informed him he would write from New York. Mr. Davis and wife visited the grave of their son, late in the evening, at Hollywood Cemetery. Davis and family went on board the steamer Niagara to-night at ten o'clock. She sails for New York to-morrow morning, and thence to Canada. [The above should have reached us in time for yesterday's edition.]

FORTRESS MONROE, May 14.—The steamer Niagara arrived at Norfolk this afternoon with Jeff. Davis' family and Miss Howell among the passengers, and sailed to-night for New York. Mrs. Davis visited the Fortress this afternoon.

FROM BALTIMORE.

Maryland White and Black State Convention—Large Attendance.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

BALTIMORE, May 14.—In accordance with the resolution adopted by the Republican Radical State Central Committee on the 17th of April, ult., a mixed convention of the white and black races assembled at noon at Broadway Hall to take into consideration the political affairs of the State. Col. Wilson, Chairman of the State Central Committee, called the Convention to order, and nominated Major General Andrew Denison temporary Chairman, and the nomination was adopted by acclamation. The General returned thanks for the honor conferred on him in appropriate remarks.

On motion a Committee on Credentials was appointed.

It being announced that a delegation from the Republican Association from Delaware was in attendance, a resolution was unanimously adopted inviting them to seats. The number present is about 2,000, equally white and black. The latter generally occupy separate portions of the floor and galleries. A colored representative, Sanders, made an eloquent and witty speech, advising his colored brethren to vote the radical ticket, and predicting that they will go so from the Potomac to the Rio Grande. Crowds of colored citizens are wending their way to the hall, which promises to be crowded to-night. During the afternoon some fifty or sixty police were on duty, preserving the best of order. There is no excitement beyond the enthusiasm of the participants in the Convention. There is no apprehension of violence or disorder.

FROM TENNESSEE.

Baptist Convention Adjourned—Serious Riot at Brownsville, at a Radical Convention—Three Negroes and Two Whites Shot—The Impeachment Case.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

MEMPHIS, May 14.—The Baptist Convention adjourned at two o'clock.

This morning a serious riot occurred at Brownsville, Tennessee, at a Radical Convention. Three negroes and two whites were shot, but not fatally. Reports as to the origin are conflicting. The Radicals charge it was the result of an organized plot to break up the Convention. Others assert that it was the result of incendiary speeches, a speaker saying that every man who had owned slaves ought to be hung. Troops have been sent to the scene.

NASHVILLE, May 14.—The impeachment Court to-day overruled the objections of the defense to Senators Hall and Pomill and would swear in the latter as witnesses. Gen. Geo. H. Thomas was examined, but his testimony developed nothing, and was scarcely relevant to the subject.

FROM CANADA.

Removal of Departments to Toronto—Another Fenian Raid.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

OTTOWA, May 14.—Orders were issued to-day to the different departments to break up business on the 1st of June, and reopen in Toronto on the 5th of July.

MONTREAL, May 14.—It is said the Government is aware of the preparations for another intended Fenian raid.

Massachusetts Legislature.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

BOSTON, May 14.—The Legislative Committee on license adopted the prohibitory law. The majority report recommends the giving of licenses to Inns, Hotels, Victualers, &c. The minority report favors the existing prohibitory law. Another report recommends the slight modification of the present law, and still another report proposes to refer the whole subject to the next Legislature.

Another Indian Canard.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHICAGO, May 14.—Letters were received in this city to-day dated on board the steamer Miner on the 3d. At that time the boat was at Fort Sully, 50 miles above Sioux City, and above the point where the capture of Clara was said to occur. Parties in this city interested in the steamer consider the report as utterly without foundation.

River Telegrams.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette, via Atlantic and Pacific Telegraph Company.]

OIL CITY, May 14.—Weather cold and cloudy, and raining slightly. River five feet and raising slowly.

LOUISVILLE, May 14.—River falling very slowly with 8½ feet in canal.

MEMPHIS, May 14.—The river fell four inches to-day, and the weather is hot.

WASHINGTON.

The Mississippi Injunction.

COMPLAINANTS HAVE STRONG HOPE.

Arguments in Supreme Court.

TEXAS ANNEXATION BOND CASE.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, May 14, 1867.

THE MISSISSIPPI INJUNCTION.

Considerable interest attaches to the amended Mississippi bill, and the complainants entertain strong hopes that the court will take cognizance of General Ord's action, if not to the extent of restraining him from any measure which might expose the State property to waste. The bill has been submitted without argument, and from the fact that it was not disposed of yesterday, it is inferred that the amendments have weight with the court.

SUPREME COURT CASES.

The case of the Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad vs. Soutter was argued in the Supreme Court to-day; also that of the State of Texas against various parties in reference to the Texas indemnity bonds, issued by the United States upon her annexation, many of which were sold by the authorities of Texas because current in New York. The question whether the de facto Government of Texas was competent to dispose of these bonds was mooted, and the decision really involves the statehood of Texas during the rebellion. It is an exciting case, as political as well as pecuniary questions are involved. The rebel authorities, who negotiated these bonds, by Governor Throckmorton and Epperson, now come into court and say the Government they helped and kept up in Texas, against the United States, was a usurpation, and seek to get back the means they themselves dedicated to the help of Texas, on the plea that they were usurping.

A STATEMENT DENIED.

Two of the grand jurors of the United States District Court of Virginia authorize the statement that there is no truth in the report that the Grand Jury have indicted John C. Breckinridge and Judge Thomas, of Fairfax county, for treason. The names of those persons have not even been before the jury during the present term.

BOOTH'S DIARY.

Judge Holt and Colonel Conger were called before the Judiciary Committee this morning, to give evidence in relation to Booth's diary. Col. Conger testified the diary is in the same condition as when taken from Booth's body.

FROM NEW YORK.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, May 14, 1867.

GREAT DAMAGE BY LIGHTNING.

During the storm last night, the large store-house of G. B. Archer, at the foot of Van Dyck street, Brooklyn, was struck by lightning. The flames soon burst from the store-house, and in a few moments it was enveloped. The storage consisted of saltpetre and nitrate of soda. The former ignited with great rapidity. One-third of the stock was destroyed. Loss on building and working tools about $30,000, on which there was $5,500 insurance. There were six thousand bags of saltpetre, valued at $130,000, stored in the establishment, more than two-thirds of which was destroyed, and there were in the establishment five hundred bags of nitrate of soda, belonging to different parties, most of which was lost, valued at $17,250. There were also eighty-eight casks of refined saltpetre, valued at $4,400. The loss on this property amounted to nearly $125,000.

The bark Lewis caught fire and was slightly damaged. A German boy was drowned by jumping overboard.

Several other buildings were struck by lightning during the storm, including the house occupied by the heirs of Madame Jumel, at No. 5 First street, injuring two women. The firemen were called out and soon extinguished the fire.

ILLICIT LIQUOR TRAFFIC.

The immense sale of illicit liquor in this city and suburbs, during the last few months, has resulted in the government of an amount of duties estimated at half a million dollars. Seven distilleries have been seized within a few days.

DUNDERBURG BOUGHT BY FRANCE.

The Express says it is stated on good authority that the government to which recent telegrams referred as having purchased the ram Dunderburg, is France.

FROM NEW ORLEANS.

Important Supreme Court Decisions—Notes Given in Payment for Slaves Cannot be Recovered Upon—National Bank in the Hands of an Examiner—Financial Excitement—Heavy Defalcations.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW ORLEANS, May 14.—Two important decisions were rendered in the Supreme Court yesterday. In Wainright vs Bridges the Court holds that no recovery can be had for notes given for the purchase of slaves. In the case of Bowen vs. Rocket Fort, the Court holds, as previously, that no recovery could be had, as the note was based on Confederate money; in other words, the money is illegal; and further, the notes being signed before the passage of the stamp law, do not require the stamp in order to be used as evidence.

The First National Bank has been placed in the hands of a receiver, and all paying is suspended.

Hon. Henry Wilson arrived here to-day.

There is great excitement here in financial circles, caused by the closing of the United States Sub-Treasury and the First National Bank, by order of the Comptroller of Currency. Mr. Kerr, of the Treasury Department at Washington City, has assumed charge of the Sub-Treasury and great defalcations are already announced in both.

A. Pilay, formerly Treasurer and President of the bank, made an assignment this morning of his effects to the extent of a million and a quarter, to secure the government. The bank holds a large amount of the paper of Leonard Herron, United States Marshal, but Mr. Knox will secure this out of Herron's distillery and plantation property. Gen. Gordon Granger, Geo. Herron, Jos. Whitaker, Miles Faxier and Mr. Mayer, are the principal directors of the bank. Wm. R. Whitaker is Sub-Treasurer.

This excitement has caused a run on all the banks, and a very stringent money market. The Bank and Treasury have been surrounded by a crowd all day, and the city National Bank suspended this evening.

FROM LOUISVILLE.

The Remains of Bishop Lavelle—Large Funeral Procession.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

LOUISVILLE, May 14.—The remains of the late Bishop Lavelle, of the Roman Catholic Church, reached here at 3 o'clock to-day, by special train from Nazareth, and were escorted from the depot to the Cathedral by one of the largest funeral processions ever witnessed here, composed of about eight thousand, including the Mayor and City Council, about twenty-six Catholic societies and a large number of citizens. The remains will lay in state until Thursday.

Young's majority over M'Kee, in the Fifth district, is about 2,000. ### Mass Meeting—Judge Kelly Speaks—He is Interrupted—Serious Riot Takes Place—Negroes and White Men Shot—Military Ordered Out.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

MOBILE, May 14.—A large number of negroes met to-night at the corner of Grand and Royal streets, to hear Judge Kelley. A number of whites were also present, and everything was remarkably quiet till Kelly began speaking, saying he had come to discuss the rights of negroes. He said he was entitled to a hearing, and bid defiance to all interruption, as he had the 15th regiment at his back, and if that proved inadequate, he would have the whole United States army. Judge Kelly continued in this strain some minutes, being opposed and interrupted, of an incendiary character, and sentiments which were calculated to lead to and incite disturbance of the peace, were uttered by a white man on the outskirts of the crowd, upon which the police attempted to arrest him. The first shot was fired at this point. It was impossible to tell who it was fired by. Instantly shots followed from the negroes, who were all armed. Firing then became general. Immediately after the firing began, an alarm was rung and continued ringing during the progress of the riot, which lasted about an hour. A large majority of the shots were fired by the negroes, as but few of the whites present were armed. The police succeeded in quelling the riot before the arrival of companies of the 15th regiment, which were ordered out by Colonel Shepard and appeared on the ground as soon as possible, but not until the meeting had been dispersed. They now guard the streets. Everything is quiet and little or no excitement at midnight. It is impossible to state the number of killed or wounded. Three men are known to have been killed, one white and two negroes. A number were wounded, among them one policeman and a white boy. Judge Kelly is at the Battle House, and leaves to-morrow for Montgomery.

Hons. Horace Greeley and Gerrit Smith, who are in the city, were invited to speak to-night to the negroes in the African Church. The audience is largely colored.

An impression still prevails that Jeff. Davis has no fixed plan for his movements. Until November Mrs. Davis will reside in Canada. Negro laborers in the tobacco warehouses have struck for higher wages. There is no disturbance.

The African church was densely crowded to-night. Judge Pierpoint was in the chair. Horace Greeley and Gerrit Smith spoke. Judge Underwood, who was expected, was not present, and it is supposed he thought it impolitic to appear. After one or two other speeches the meeting adjourned.

Maryland Constitutional Convention.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ANNAPOLIS, May 14.—The Constitutional Convention transacted no business of general importance to-day.

BALTIMORE, May 14.—The Radical State Convention adopted resolutions in favor of impartial suffrage, calling on Congress to abolish all distinctions of race or color, and to say the Constitutional Convention at Annapolis is the result of the subversion of the legal government of Maryland, and that any Constitution framed by it, without impartial suffrage, ought not be recognized by Congress, and while the Convention declares its purpose that if said Convention should submit a Constitution which does not recognize impartial suffrage, the Republicans of the State should use all the means at the ballot box to defeat such Constitution.

Senator Cresswell was previously made permanent President of the Convention.

After passing the resolutions, the Convention adjourned.

From the above it will be seen that the actual expense of maintaining the institution during the past year is $11,221 36.

One thousand dollars must be drawn from the amount in bank to pay the expenses of the past month.

The grading and paving of the three streets, Ridge, Lincoln and Grant avenue, will be a heavy tax upon our resources.

Since making this report we have received from the Superintendent of the Soldiers' Orphans $1,609 36, being the amount due for the months of January and February. December 1866 has not yet been provided for from this source.

SECRETARY'S REPORT.

Your Board of Managers desire to offer to you, to-day, their earnest congratulations on the successful completion of this new Home for the Orphans.

In reviewing the checkered history of the past thirty-five years, we trace the guiding hand of God. From very small beginnings we have attained strength. Thirty-five years ago this institution opened a home for orphans in a small rented house with three or four little ones. Now your Board meet in this spacious and convenient building, which is the new home we have so long wished for. Go through its clean and well ventilated dormitories, its cheerful play-rooms, and all the many arrangements that facilitate the management of so large a family. We are thankful that we feel assured of institutions relying for support on the benevolence of the public. When our hearts have been saddened by a well-nigh exhausted treasury, friends have been raised up to supply our need, and the greater number in olden times to the widow, has been realized to the orphans. Among the many blessings vouchsafed to us, we note with pleasure that we have still the benefit of the experience and advice of three of the original managers, one of whom was a member of the Board of the First Directress.

The convenience of this building in all its details and its perfect adaptation to the purpose for which it is designed, are chiefly owing to the care and supervision of that kind friend of the Asylum, who solicited the funds necessary to supplement the generous legacy of the late Charles Brewer, Esq.

The building formerly occupied by the orphans, on Wilson street, Allegheny, has been sold to the Widows' Home Association, and thus continues to do good service in another branch of benevolence. Our increased accommodations have enabled us to receive a much larger number of orphans. Necessarily there has been some change in the management of the family and school. The services of Mrs. Sterling as Matron, Miss Harvey, as long the faithful instructress, has been appointed assistant matron. Miss Hardy has been engaged as teacher, and the school-room now affords a pleasant and healthful apartment for all the pupils, several of the younger ones have been placed in a separate room under the tuition of one who was herself reared in the Asylum.

One hundred and ten children have been received during the year, 83 of these soldiers' orphans. Of these, [illegible] have been adopted or returned to friends; [illegible] soldiers' orphans have been sent to schools or their homes by the State superintendent. Three have died—one a tender babe, whose form quietly rests in the Orphans' lot in Mt. Union Cemetery; the other a soldier's orphan, whose remains were sent to his mother's home, in Mercer county, for interment. We rejoice in the hope that they have been gathered into the fold of the good Shepherd who has said of such is the kingdom of Heaven."

At present there are one hundred and eighty-seven children in the Asylum; one hundred and fourteen of these are soldiers' orphans, under State control, which contracts for their support. However, the last payment from the State was made in the month of December, 1866, and the sum of $9,000 is due us, which we trust that the Legislature, from which cannot be paid, will be appropriated for our relief from the next Legislature.

The Board would gratefully acknowledge the unfailing attention and skill of our physician, Dr. O. L. Miller, who has given his services gratuitously during the past year. We are also indebted to Dr. Sterritt for special services in cases where the skill of the oculist was required.

Our legal advisers, too, claim our thanks for important services rendered. We continue to receive most gratifying accounts of many of the children apprenticed from the Board. Several of them have united with Evangelical churches, and are commended for their consistent christian character. One, apprenticed by the Asylum some sixteen years ago, to a farmer, after the end of his apprenticeship, entered the army, and since his return is carrying on a farm with the bounty money he has married, applied for, and received a boy from the Asylum to rear.

Extracts from some of the letters received from children and those in whose families they have been apprenticed may prove interesting: M. S. writes, "I am daily increasing in size, knowledge, and the fear of the Lord. She is learning the labors of a farm house, and is a good scholar. She is an affectionate girl, and is we are assured beloved by all who know her. The family love her as if she was our own sister and daughter." An I. J. writes to us, "I return you my thanks for your kindness, and hope you will be able to do as much for some one else as you have done for your orphan girls. As you so kindly advise, I will try to be obedient and respectful as possible to those under whose charge I am placed. Although I will do my duty in that station of life in which God has pleased to place me. I have not read the bible every day, but I have read it every Sunday, and I make a practice of reading in my spare time. I am very happy. I like especially my Aunts S. and E. I now feel I can sew and have knit one hundred pounds. Whenever I was unwell I had the constant attendance of a doctor, and the best care of the household. You may please God to change my condition in life, but we have been obliged to never forget the kindness of the institution and its grateful remembrance."

M. S. says of Johnny, "He is a very good and affectionate boy, obedient and industrious in learning his trades; regularly attends church and seems to take an interest in what he hears; he is growing nicely, and is treated as our own child. He is well, and will write soon." We attends church. Matron, who is Miss M., and the kind and who since the first" Mr. F. writes, "Johnny will attend and somewhat learned nearly all the work since. She is not without fair and truly troublesome. She is a child of truly pleasing teaching her anything. She is devout in her catechism. She attends church and Sunday school."

G——, a little boy, writes, "I seat myself to answer your kind and welcome letter. I like the country. I am going to school, am not proved to attend very regularly in the winter, but it is all as it might if I had a better teacher. I read in my bible every day. I like my place very well. I like to live in the country very well. I like to live in the country. I have good friends to write to me."

In a very well written letter L—— says, "I like the place very well. I like my domestic life. I would take and have given them all the photographs taken and have given them all the time. I intend to get more this summer and will send you one."

C—— writes, "I would like to hear from children and know how many are in the Asylum. There were one hundred and twenty-five when I was there last."

Mr. L—— says, "Y—— is well contented; attended school all winter; is progressing well at his book and in his trade. I never saw a better boy in all my life."

J—— writes, "I received you letter. I recite in mental arithmetic, geography, fourth reader, &c. I have got to the 8th Psalm and took the premium in sunday school. I like to stay here, but I would like to go back to see how they are getting along. I love uncle and aunt very much."

One who has adopted four of our orphans writes of the boys: "We have much pleasure in W., and he, we believe, is a sincere Christian. Our little girls, S. and H. last year both made a public profession of their attachment to Jesus, and have walked consistently ever since. S. gained the highest prize at Sunday school, having repeated nearly four thousand verses, and M. over three thousand. They wish me to thank you for your kindness and will write soon."

These expressions of gratitude and reports of well-doing richly reward your Board for past anxieties and cares, and encourage them to more earnest labor and faith in the future. "Cast thy bread upon the waters and after many days thou shalt find it again."

LOUISA J. CAMPBELL, Secretary.

The reading of the reports was followed by further exercises in singing by the pupils of the school, and a recitation of Longfellow's Psalm of Life in concert, after which an address was delivered to the children by Rev. A. S. Dickerson. The address was full of interest, and delivered in an unusually happy style. Want of space forbids us giving even a synopsis of his remarks. The election of a Board of Managers followed, when the following ticket was put in nomination and unanimously elected:

| | |
| Mrs. E. F. Denny, | Mrs. R. S. Hays, |
| " Geo. Robinson, | " Jackson, |
| " Mary Wilkins, | " Vankirk, |
| " H. Campbell, | Miss Holmes, |
| " J. F. Logan, | " Lothrop, |
| " F. Bramot, | " Shaw, |
| " H. Childs, | " Mcintree, |
| " R. Robison, | " M. Smith. |

The Decalogue and Lord's Prayer were recited in concert by the little children, after which the benediction was pronounced by Rev. Dickerson and the meeting adjourned.

Altogether the meeting was one of unusual interest, and every person appeared pleased with the exercises. The progress displayed by the orphans, and the advancement they showed yesterday, reflect the highest credit upon the management of the institution, and affords strong proof that it is well worthy the patronage of our citizens.

D. L. Oldshue.

When a Master Mechanic, Artist, or Professor of any science, makes application for employment in his business, he is generally expected to exhibit some references as to his qualities and qualifications.

From the many favorable notices presented by the "press" of Pittsburgh and surrounding country, as also some of the medical journals of the country, in reference to the ability and qualifications of Professor Oldshue, of Grant street, we cannot help regarding him as among the most successful practitioners of the age.

In fact, from the tens of thousands of persons who daily crowd his office for relief, and the general satisfaction that seems to be rendered by his prescriptions and treatment, we have no good reason why he should not be otherwise.

His patients are not alone the residents of Pittsburgh and Allegheny county, but his skill and fame has spread far and wide all over the country, and numbers visit him from every part.

His system of practice is peculiar, yet most scientific, being eclectic in principal, and avails himself of the microscopic examination of the urine, which latter are among the most scientific tests of disease. This subject is now daily attracting the attention of the most scientific physicians and chemists. We have but to refer to a trial lately had in the recent trial of George W. Winnemore, for the murder of Mrs. Magillion, of Philadelphia. Dr. Seth Pancoast, testified "that he had examined some of his urine in order to test the sanity or insanity of the prisoner."

The prisoner's counsel objected to the evidence, "as he could not see the analogy between the urine and the condition of the mind," but submitted to Dr. Pancoast the following:

Question—"Can you test the pathological condition of the mind by the microscopic examination of the urine?"

Ans. by Dr. P—"Partially."

Question by Counsel—"Can you test in any degree the sanity or insanity of a man by a microscopic examination of the urine?"

Ans. by Dr. Pancoast—"Partially we can. In treating disease of the body or mind we examine very precisely the pathological condition of the mind; thus microscopic examination of the urine, and the results of the test, I found crystals of lime deposited in the urine, which is attendant upon the disease called ammonia; it is accompanied by a demented condition, hallucinations, &c., and indicates weakness of the mind; also among a number of other facts. My definition of insanity is, impairment of the functions of the brain; oxalates in the urine, indicates a pathological condition of the brain—these were evidences of insanity in the urine which I observed in the urine."

Thus you will see, that not only is disease readily detected by examination of the urine, but also that medical science is becoming enriched thereby, also, Dr. Oldshue has been long engaged in the scientific analysis and microscopic examination of the urine in all chronic and complicated diseases for more than twenty years.

He has one of the largest and most powerful microscopes, and is prepared with all apparatus necessary to the examination of the most complicated cases.

Persons laboring under chronic affections that have not been cured, because perhaps their disease was not fully understood, would do well to give him a trial.

His office and residence is at No. 192 Grant street. HYGEIA.

The Aquatic Championship—Mr. Shea's Reasons for Withdrawing from the Position of Trainer to Brown.

The Illustrated Sporting Times comes to us this week, with a statement of Mr. John Shea, of Boston, who came on here, as trainer of Brown, for the sculling match to take place on the first instant, giving the reasons of his withdrawing from the same. The reasons given, if truth is to be placed in them, give Brown rather an unenviable reputation as a sporting man. Mr. Shea says that Brown proposed to sell the race to Hamill for the sum of seven hundred dollars, but that Hamill declined the offer, stating that he had only seven hundred dollars to bet on himself, and he preferred winning the money rather than buying Brown out. Mr. Shea farther says that Brown afterwards proposed to him to bet all the money he could raise on Hamill and to sell the race to as many of Hamill's friends as would bite, and then for Mr. Shea to demand the stake. To this, Mr. Shea says he would have nothing to do with it, and so fell out with his champion and left. We give the statements of Mr. Shea as published, but don't vouch for the correctness of them, as we know nothing of the matter connected with the matter which he discloses to publish. He claims, however, that Brown offered to sell the race for seven hundred dollars, rather than the amount offered, and to run the race for nothing; he further says he was offered the Hamill as stated for $2,000.

—Since writing the above we learn that Mr. Brown gives a flat denial to the whole statement of Mr. Shea.

Found Drowned.

On Monday evening a little boy passing along the bank of the Ohio, near Dead Man's Ripple, between Edgeworth and Leetsdale stations, discovered the body of a man lying face downwards in the water some distance from the shore. He gave notice of the fact and the body was secured. The remains had evidently lain a long time in the water, and the clothing and hair were filled with sand. At first, owing to the bruises on the face, resulting from lying with the face against the bottom of the river, it was almost impossible to tell whether the deceased was white or colored. It was ascertained, however, that he was a white man. In the absence of Coroner Clawson, Alderman Butler held an inquest on the body yesterday afternoon. Nothing was discovered to identify the man, and his name is therefore unknown. A pocket-book was found containing $5.78, and a silver hunting watch, which indicated that the deceased had belonged to the third brigade of the second division of the sixth corps. He had on a suit of soldier's pantaloons, with blue overalls, checkered cassimere coat, and apparently been but recently half-soiled. The jury returned a verdict of accidental death, and the body was taken charge of by an undertaker at Sewickleyville.

Dyeing and Scouring.

The dyeing and scouring business has attained a high state of perfection in this city. Mr. C. G. Fischer, a practical workman, has established a fancy dyeing and scouring establishment at No. 61 Diamond alley, between Wood and Smithfield streets. He guarantees to all that patronize him their customers satisfaction. It requires the return of the few articles within from two weeks from the time they are left, and keeps them at the proper rate. Give Mr. Fischer a call and you will find him a gentleman worthy your patronage. Remember the place, No. 61 Diamond alley.

T. T. Ewens, No. 165 Wood street, has just received a splendid stock of fashionable gas fixtures for stores, counting rooms, parlors and public halls, which he will dispose of at the most reasonable rates.

United States District Court.

Before Hon. Wilson McCandless.

Court opened yesterday at ten o'clock.

The case of George Welmer, alias George Weyman, was continued. The witnesses in behalf of the accused, who failed to appear the previous day, were examined. The defendant pretended to prove by them the physical impossibility of his presence at the time the Messrs. Curry, of Centreville, Butler county, received the one hundred dollar counterfeit Treasury note. But this proof was not satisfactory, and Weyman was found guilty. His counsel moved for a new trial.

On motion of Isaac Cohen, Esq., the case of Robert Black, indicted for having in his possession counterfeit treasury notes, and trying to pass the same, was postponed till to-day at ten o'clock.

The next case taken up was that of Dr. W. J. Smith, of Lawrenceville. He was arraigned on a charge of passing, and having in his possession counterfeit fractional currency of the denomination of fifty cents. District Attorney Carnahan appeared for the United States; I. Cohen, Esq., for the defendant. Dr. Smith is well known in this community. He was residing in Lawrenceville at the time the offence was charged. About five years ago he was held to answer a like charge, and although discharged, a strong suspicion was entertained that he was not entirely innocent. When arrested, a few weeks ago, he had in his possession packages of fifty cent notes, and pretended that they were given to him by a certain individual, whose name and place of residence he was unable to give. On the 15th of last month he went to the store of Shields & Boucher, dealers in groceries, on Smithfield street, and bought one pound of tea, offering in payment two fifty cent notes, one genuine, the other counterfeit. A clerk received the money. Government detectives were put on Smith's track, and in the afternoon of the same day they arrested him, searched him, and found two packages, one containing thirty-seven fifty cent counterfeit notes and the other four. Robert Hague and John Herron, "detectives," testified to the facts above related. The witnesses gave evidence as to character of Smith; they said him a regular counterfeiter. Louis Buchter, tavern keeper, deposed that Smith went to his house, made sundry purchases and gave a fifty cent note in payment, which was subsequently found to be bad, and the bar keeper, knowing the defendant by sight, kept it in order that he might give it back to Smith on his next appearance at the tavern; Smith, however, did not return.

William Luck testified having received from the prisoner a fifty cent note which he supposed to be counterfeit.

Mr. Cameron, Cashier of the United States Depository, was called and pronounced counterfeit all the notes taken from Smith. This closed the case on behalf of the United States.

C. Barjour and others testified to the good character of defendant.

The testimony having closed the District Attorney declined making an argument, thinking it unnecessary.

The jury convicting, Smith was sentenced to pay a fine of one thousand dollars and costs and undergo an imprisonment in the penitentiary for a period of seven years.

The Court adjourned till to-day at ten o'clock.

Academy of Music Opening.

The Academy of Music will be reopened this evening as a dramatic temple, by Messrs. Hall & Burke. For this occasion the great actor, John E. Murdock, has been engaged and will inaugurate the season, under the new management, by appearing as Alfred Evelyn, in the comedy of "Money," in which he will be supported by an excellent company. We confidently expect a crowded house on Murdock's first night. To-morrow evening Mr. Murdock will appear in "School for Scandal," and the following evening in "Wild Oats." We are glad to learn that Mr. M. is accompanied by Manager Hess, with whom he is to make an extended professional tour through the West. Mr. Hess will be warmly greeted by many Pittsburgh friends, his former management at the Opera House.

Fashionable Merchant Tailor.—Our gentlemen readers of Allegheny should bear in mind that, if they want to get a suit of clothes, and get them made good, they can do no better than by going to the establishment of Mr. R. Norris, No. 29 Federal street, as any house in the two cities. Mr. Norris is what you can call a first class man in that line and no mistake. He keeps a full line of general furnishing goods which he sells much lower than most of houses. Call and see him, and we will guarantee that you will be suited.

Larceny as Bailee.—James B. Logan made information yesterday before Alderman Lynch charging H. F. Farney and John Nave, proprietors of the Red Lion Hotel, with larceny as bailee. Mr. Logar alleges, that he stopped at the Hotel of defendants, on St. Clair street, and left in their possession a carpet bag, containing clothing of considerable value which they refused to return to him. The defendants gave bail for a hearing before the Alderman this morning at nine o'clock.

To Builders.—Go to Tom. T. Ewen's, No. 165 Wood street, to get your work done in a good and workmanlike manner as any other house in the city. He keeps a large assortment of all articles in the plumbing and gas fitting business. His workmen are of the very best mechanics and he warrants all his work. Call and see him at his next shop in his line, No. 165 Wood street.

Robbery.—Yesterday afternoon the residence of Mr. John Netzler, No. 54 Sixth street, was entered by some adroit rascals who took $30 worth of jewelry from a bureau drawer in the second story. Entrance was doubtless effected by the front door. No other effect to the house except the front chamber appears to have been visited.

To Young Men.—Messrs. Reineman, Meyran & Seidle, No. 29 Fifth street, have just received a most complete stock of gold and silver watches kept by any house in the city, and will sell them at prices ranging from $20 to $150. They are all warranted. Call and see them.

Committed to Jail.—Welsh, Burns and Murta, three of the youthful thieves whose cases have been referred to, were yesterday sent to jail by Mayor McCarthy. Lalar was released on bail, and Price discharged, there being no evidence sufficient to hold him on.

Released on Bail.—Sarah Peebles, confined for some time back in jail, on two charges of larceny and keeping a disorderly house, was yesterday released on giving bail in the sum of one thousand dollars for her appearance to answer the charge at Court.

To the Misses.—Go to Reineman, Meyran & Seidle's No. 29 Fifth street, and buy yourself a nice gold ring, ear drops, breastpin, or whatever you want in the jewelry line. A full assortment, of the finest quality, to select from.

Alleged Larceny.—John McLaren, residing on Pennsylvania Avenue, made information on Tuesday, before Alderman Strain, charging John Griffith with the larceny of a kettle. A warrant was issued.

THE RELEASE OF MR. DAVIS.

That a man accused of crime, and shut up in prison on that accusation has a right to demand a trial or a release, is a proposition concerning which there can be no dispute under a government of law. The more conspicuous and aggravated his crime, the less excuse is there for delay. It will not do to say that everybody knows he is guilty, and therefore it is well enough to procrastinate his arraignment. Under such circumstances proof must be abundant and accessible, and all pretext for delay is taken from the officers charged with conducting the prosecution.

Mr. DAVIS was arrested two years ago and has been in prison up to Monday last. He has repeatedly expressed his readiness to meet all the complaints brought against him. He has demanded to be tried. His counsel have declared their readiness to proceed with his case. The officers of the government have steadily insisted they were not ready. If not prepared now, when all the facts are notorious, they never will be in a condition to take up the case.

It will not do to say Mr. DAVIS is guilty, and therefore no injustice has been done him. No matter how guilty a man may be there is no authority for subjecting him to punishment until his criminality shall be legally established. Incarceration for two years is a heavy punishment to inflict upon a man in any case. To subject him to it arbitrarily, he all the while pleading for a trial, such as the laws provide, is a gross offence against his rights, and a precedent of most dangerous tendency. The Bastile, infamous for all time, was only a prison where men were kept without "due process of law." Even during the war we had no patience with the system of arbitrary arrest and imprisonment. At the close of the war, the shadow of excuse which existed for it certainly disappeared.

But Mr. DAVIS is not only charged with treason, of which he is manifestly guilty. He is accused of assassination, which he denies. As to his guilt in this particular there is a wide diversity of opinion. It is safe to say a large majority of the people do not believe him guilty. He is not wrong in demanding that the government shall make out a case against him on this head, or withdraw the imputation. To stand in history as the leader of a rebellion is one thing. It is quite another to stand as the real chief of a band of assassins.

Mr. LINCOLN was desirous the leaders of the rebellion should not fall into the hands of the government. He so expressed himself to General SHERMAN. His sagacity in that respect is now apparent. He sought to avoid the necessity for bloody reprisals. His instincts and sentiments were in accordance with the best aspirations of the age. Nor in this did he act differently from many others, to whose hands the Executive authority of nations has been confided. Wise and humane rulers, having overthrown a revolt, are seldom unwilling the master spirits of the insurrection shall escape; only provided it can be accomplished without palpable connivance on their part.

There seems to be a diversity of opinion as to whether the bailment of Mr. DAVIS makes practically an end to his case. Harsh criticisms have been pronounced by democratic journals, North and South, upon Judge UNDERWOOD. But unprejudiced observers have been satisfied all along that he was acting in concert with the President, if not at his suggestion. The time came when something had to be done with Mr. DAVIS. From being a prisoner of State, held by military power, it was needful to shift him into the custody of the laws. But the Attorney General was unready, clearly for a purpose. Two years had not sufficed for the government to be ready in this great case. So, bail was taken in a matter not bailable, and the prisoner allowed to go. The formality of bail taking was a surplussage; contrived as an easy way to let the government out of an awkward predicament. Having concluded to let him go, it would have been more graceful to have received barely his own recognizance. But we doubt not, this makes an end of the proceedings.

VENERATION FOR THE CONSTITUTION.

When Mr. JOHN C. CALHOUN, in order to prepare the way for the secession of the slaveholding States from the Union, invented the doctrine of State Sovereignty, its nature and design were instantly perceived and it was resisted by the most conclusive argumentation. It was not denied that a Revolution might be attempted or actually occur; for the right of Revolution is inherent in all political communities, and is clearly affirmed and limited in the Declaration of Independence. But this right is Natural rather than Constitutional. It has no place in the organic law, but has its roots in human consciousness. A nation does not voluntarily provide for its own destruction, though it may, from lack of wise leadership, or from popular passions surging past control, commit suicide.

Eleven States did secede. They exercised the right of Revolution, though without justifying cause, made an appeal to arms, set up an adverse government, which was complete in all its details, and strong enough to conduct on one side the most gigantic war of modern times. The loyal States made war on the revolted ones for various reasons; because the revolt was without warrant in the Constitution, and destitute of excusing cause; subordinately, because they would not consent to the erection, near them, of an adverse government, whose character and capacity they could not foresee, and which seemed to foreshadow perpetual antagonism. The motive was patriotism; but this sentiment or quality is of mixed composition, deriving its strength from a great variety of considerations, some of them soaring towards the zenith and partaking of celestial elements, while others are of the earth, earthly.

The rebellion was suppressed, after the sacrifice of much blood and treasure. No sooner was this accomplished than the Southern leaders assumed that the eleven States never had been out of the Union, that the insurrectionary movement in which they had been engaged, though in contravention of the Constitution and laws, was in the highest degree honorable to the individuals participating therein, ought not to entail disabilities on them, and could not be construed to work a forfeiture of the rights and immunities of any of the States without resort to the lamest logic and without affronting the elementary principles of popular government. For some months these assumptions assumed no more definite form than declamation in assemblies of the people, or easy and glowing rhetoric in newspaper articles. Recently, several of the rebel States have appeared before the Supreme Court by counsel learned in the law, and put this assumption in the form of an appeal for justice. They claim, in substance, that if they had succeeded in their purpose they would have established an independent government, but failing in that enterprise they are entitled to all the rights and privileges which the loyal States can claim and exercise. To concede this, would be to invite fresh treasons. This may, indeed, be a lawyer's view of the case; but it is not the conception of a statesman, and cannot be made such.

If the rebellion had been confined to a small strip of territory, and had been comparatively insignificant in the numbers implicated, and the consequences flowing from it, there might be both reason and expediency in treating it as a trivial matter, to be wiped out of recollection as soon as possible. But the rebellion was not a transaction of this description. It had in it all the violence of an earthquake, and absolutely rent the republic in twain. The great fissure which it created ran a third of the way across the continent, and for dreary months and years a strong presumption was raised it might prove an impassable gulf, separating forever the two sections from fraternal or amicable relationship. Few things are more absurd than to insist that such a movement shall be treated as though it had not been; that no punishments or disabilities shall be laid on the prominent actors in it, and that no securities shall be exacted against the recurrence of the mischief.

Doubtless it would suit the Democratic party to have the revolted States come back not only unchanged in their rights, but under the leaders who conducted them into the revolt, and with their controling ideas and plans as slightly modified as practicable. The only hope that remains for the restoration of that party to ascendency in the government, for many years to come, arises out of the possibility of completing this result. Hence, while its members complain that the Republicans, in devising conditions of reconstruction, are giving to party interests the weight and consideration due only to the national welfare, they are clearly resting under the same condemnation. Nor is it easy to see how parties, if they have any strong convictions as to principles and policies, can discriminate as sharply as some individuals contend they ought between their own advancement and the general well-being.

The Republicans have the authority in their hands. Through a long succession of unparalleled trials they demonstrated their loyalty with a clearness and effulgence which puts it beyond question. In the great contest, in obedience to their professions and under the pressure of vast emergencies, they wrought out acts of high public justice, delivering four millions of hereditary bondmen from the hands of the oppressors. In order to secure this multitude in the possession of their newly recovered rights, changes were instituted in the organic law, and still farther changes have been proposed. The democrats have steadily resisted these alterations, recording their votes almost unanimously in opposition, whenever and wherever they have had opportunity. In all instances they have not avowed hostility to equal rights was the motive by which they were actuated. Most frequently they have paraded a superstitious reverence for the Constitution, as nearly superhuman in origin and character, as the reason for opposing modifications in its provisions needful to meet the new demands and follow the healthy progress of political sentiment. Not that they have felt such veneration for it; for when it was assailed by the rebels they applauded the assault, and wished that it might succeed, and when the Confederate Constitution was promulgated did not conceal preference for it as in many particulars a better frame of Government than that which they now applaud as the perfection of political wisdom. So far has this been carried that whenever one of them begins to eulogize the Constitution it is safe to infer there is some old abuse he is anxious to conserve, and that his heart dilates not over provisions for securing justice and promoting public tranquility, but over some compromise with oppression to which the fathers consented because they allowed a mistaken expediency to triumph over their sense of the natural and immutable fitness of things.

The loyal people of this nation have supreme control over their institutions, and of right as well as by power can make them what they will, provided only they do not offend against natural justice. Such is the ceaseless flow of human life that no Constitution or system of laws ever has been, or can be, devised, to answer well for a long period, without material revisions. This is not owing to the fickleness of the people, but to course of events. Society is not stationary, and cannot be held so. The Medes and Persians boasted that their frame of government was cast in a mold by the wisdom of its founders, and was not susceptible of change. But the abrasions of time wore it all away, and the sooner because it did not yield to the inevitable, and meet the altered condition of affairs. The Constitution of the United States wisely provided for its own amendment; but if it had not, the men of this age would not have been concluded by the want of forethought in their predecessors, but would have exercised their innate sovereignty in changing the instrument to suit their conception of national policy. The fact, however, that a Constitution exists; that a distinction is maintained between organic and statutory laws; shows that the idea of stability is not discarded, and that the purpose is that the fundamental law shall be modified only where the development of society has really made parts of it effete, and so a hindrance rather than a help to farther growth.

REV. H. D. MOORE, late of this city, entered upon his pastorate at Cincinnati last Sunday. Of his opening sermon the Gazette says:

"Mr. Moore had notes, but apparently made little use of them, and we believe some of the most effective passages of his discourse were entirely extemporaneous. He has a mild and benevolent looking countenance; is medium sized, and not unprepossessing in his appearance generally. He is not a young man, but seems in the prime of vigor and usefulness, and as though he had much strength and many years to devote to the service of the ministry. His voice is generally good, although at times harsh and thin. His style of speaking is energetic, and his gestures frequent and marked. There were times yesterday when, during the delivery of a single sentence, he moved slowly or rapidly across the entire inner space of the pulpil. He is pretty certain always to keep the attention of the audience alive and excited. Upon the whole, we should judge he made a favorable impression, and that his pastorship will be administered successfully and well."

THIS country is not monopolizing the naked drama, as the following from a late London letter will attest:

"Every theatre has a large and good ballet. The mention of ballot reminds me that the goods folks here are as fond of the 'naked truth' as we are. At Drury Lane and Covent Garden, each, there must have been one hundred and fifty girls on the stage, (in 'Faust' and the pantomime,) and they were all displayed in various dresses, verging on nudity and thereabout, to the evident delectation of the company assembled in 'boxes, pits and stalls.' There is a photograph hung in many of the shop windows through the city of a M'lle Abingdon, who is said to be representing 'Eve,' and truly, in point of custume I imagine she does resemble that much abused maternal ancester of ours, for she has nothing on but a full suit of silk fleshings, with her long hair hanging down behind, and a small garland of flowers hanging down on the other side. In fact, the rage for bare legs and other specimens of nudity is becoming frightful—it has gone so far as to seize upon the 'Royal Family.' You can see in any book-house window or photograph saloon a picture of the Prince of Wales, taken in Highland costume, which shows his naked leg."

MR. DICEY, who attended the wedding of the Czarowitz, has written a book about Russia. He draws the portraits of the Imperial family. To him the Czar appears as "a tall, stately man, with clear cut features and dark hair"—one who would have been counted "one of the most kingly cf kings, if he had not succeeded an Emperor whose personal grandeur of stature and aspect was beyond description." The Empress is "a pale, delicate looking lady, with handsome, even features, and a graceful figure." And as for the Grand Duchess Maria Fedebovna, erst the Princess Dagmar, her "grave beauty" obtains a really enthusiastic recognition. The Czarowitz is described as "a strong well built lad, over six feet in height, with broad chest, and a look of great strength about his tall, powerful figure." It is delicately hinted that it is doubtful "whether, when the bloom of youth has passed, and the marked lines of his face grew harder, it will be as pleasant a one as his father's to look upon."

A WAG has been imposing on the New York Times with a story to this effect: "Prominent Pennsylvanians are said to be canvassing the project of having the State publish in Philadelphia an enormous newspaper,—something on a scale hitherto unheard of in the world of journalism. It is to be about three times as large as any newspaper now published in this country, and is to be furnished gratuitously to every voter in the State. It is supposed that 400,000 persons can be found outside the State who will subscribe for it at $12 a year, and an income of over eight millions of dollars is expected from advertising. The annual expenses of the paper are set down at about twelve millions, and on this basis the enterprise is expected to yield a net revenue of nearly a million and a half to the State."

CONSUMPTION.—This Scourge of humanity, bane of civilization, with despotic sway has insinuated itself into all classes, grades and conditions of life. Neither age, sex or rank are exempt from its ravages. Its icy hand falls alike upon youthful innocence and hoary headed age. Some of the prominent symptoms are Cough, Expectorant, Shortness of Breath, Irritation about the Lungs and Chest, Darting Pains in the Side and Back, Emaciation and a general negative condition of the whole system. It is authentically stated that one-fifth of the inhabitants of this country and Europe die of Consumption. No disease has been more thoroughly studied, and its nature less understood; there is no disease upon which exists a greater diversity of opinion, and no disease which has more completely baffled all medical skill and remedial agencies. Persons suffering from this dread disease or any of its concomitants, should lose no time in possessing themselves of the proper Remedy, in order that they may stay its ravages, and be restored to health.

The Rev. EDWARD A. WILSON'S PREPARED PREPARATION for the cure of Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Colds and all Throat and Lung Affections, has been in use over 10 years with the most marked success. The remedy, prepared under Mr. Wilson's personal supervision, also a pamphlet, containing the original prescription, with full and explicit directions for preparation and use, together with a short history of his case, may be obtained of the following reliable Druggist in this State, viz: JOSEPH FLEMING, 84 Market street, Pittsburgh, sole agent for Western Pennsylvania. my3.Tfd

ALL THE WORLD OVER!

There are but few spots on our globe where HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS are not known; and, when known, appreciated.

In the United States and British America it has become a household word. As a protective against malaria, epidemic fevers, Fever and Ague, and other diseases produced by miasmatic influences, it stands far ahead of all other preparations, and is so considered by the most eminent physicians of the day.

In South and Central America, Mexico and West Indies it has obtained a firm hold on the minds of the people, and is implicitly relied upon as a certain preventive and cure for the many malarious diseases incident to those tropical regions.

In Australia, Tasmania, New Zealand and adjacent islands, its progress has been marvelous. Merchants, miners, farmers, manufacturers and squatters all endorse it. Thousands all ready has it saved from the pernicious effects of miasma, arising from the low swampy grounds so prevalent in those countries.

In China and the East Indies it is working its way with rapid strides, and is extensively used in the hospitals.

In Conservative Europe, even, its influence is being felt, and the day is not far distant when HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS will become in the old world what it now is in the new—a never-failing joy to the afflicted.

PINUS CANADENSIS.

A tree which is abundant in Canada, Nova Scotia, and the more northern parts of the New England States, and is also found in the elevated and mountainous regions of the Middle States, and abounds in medicinal virtues. Dr. Swett, of Boston, has prepared a medicine from the sweet inside bark of the pine tree, called POLAND'S WHITE PINE COMPOUND, which is one of rare value in all debilitated states of the kidneys. It acts like a charm in all diseases of mucous membranes, enabling them to regain their lost tone and energy. It will be found well adapted to all those diseases, where Buchu has been tried and failed. It is likewise well suited to chronic coughs, and an infallible specific for old and debilitated cases of asthma. Many persons who at first only took a bottle of this medicine, to try, afterwards came back and got a dozen, or half dozen, which effected radical cures of diseases of the bladder and kidney of years standing.

Diabetes, a disease that has been looked upon as among the incurables, is immediately relieved by it. Notice the certificate of Asa Goodnus, published some time ago.

The United States Dispensatory, speaking of the pine, says: "It is prescribed in leucorrhea, gleet, and other diseases of the urinary passages; in piles and chronic inflammation or ulceration of the bowels, in chronic catarrhal affections, and in various forms of rheumatism." It is exceedingly valuable in all gravelly affections, bloody urine, and where there is red and white sediment. It can be taken without interruption to one's usual avocations; and instead of sickening, produces a bracing, healthy power of endurance and vigor. Price, $1 per bottle; six for $5. Ask for POLAND'S WHITE PINE COMPOUND. For sale by the gross, dozen or single bottle, at DR. KEYSER'S Great Medicine Store, 140 Wood street. ap20

J. Grosvenor Davis vs. John S. McCall. Action on a judgment note for $224, given August 30th, 1865, payable one year after date. The note was given in part payment of the purchase money of lots in East Liberty, in what was known as the "Orchard Addition." Payment was resisted on the ground that there were streets alleged to be laid out in the plan of lots, which it was ascertained afterwards did not belong to the grantor, the plaintiff, but to other parties, and in fact that there were no streets laid out. On trial.

Passing Counterfeit Money—Professional "Shovers" Aided by Honest (?) People.

Since the Government took in hand the issuing of paper curremcy, this taking the place of gold and silver as a circulating medium, the country has been flooded with counterfeit money and counterfeiters have multiplied, notwithstanding stringent laws prescribing severe punishments, and the employment of persons, at high salaries, to ferret out the offenders. The issue of fractional or postal currency was a most tempting bait, and how it has been taken advantage of almost every man's daily experience will attest. Counterfeiting has been reduced to a system, in the carrying out of which a large class of the community, considered honest, take an important part. We assert this as a truth, and can demonstrate it. At the trial of a case in the United States Court, not long since, a tavern keeper, or bar-tender, was on the stand as a witness, and in the course of his testimony stated it was the custom, the general rule, to pass out whatever counterfeit money might be taken in. At the close of the day's business, in reckoning up the receipts, the counterfeit was thrown aside for passing out next day. The Court, upon hearing this acknowledgment, was provoked to say the custom was a very dangerous one. True it is, and yet we venture the assertion that there are few of the hundreds of saloons in this city at which it is not now daily practised to a greater or less extent. Is this not directly aiding and abetting the professional "shovers?" Is it not assisting very materially to keep in circulation bad money? It is most certainly, and saloon keepers who do business in this way are equally culpable with the "professional." Nor is this culpability confined to saloon-keepers, but grocers and retail dealers generally assist in a greater or less degree in the "shoving" by the same process. Thus the money passes from hand to hand; from the bona fide, so to speak, counterfeiter, to the saloon keeper, grocer, or other dealer, to the hand of the customer, who in turn, not recollecting from whom he obtained the worthless paper, seeks opportunity to get rid of it. And in the end who suffers? In nine cases out of ten, those who are least able to bear the loss; yet, more honest than those rated higher in society, seek not to entail loss upon others; content with the deception to which they are victims, they destroy the counterfeit, as was the rule in the good times of old, when people did not suffer for their honesty.

Does it not seem singular that, whilst the country is deluged with this counterfeit money, there are so remarkably few arrested and punished for the crime of counterfeiting? And is there not a reason for this given in the facilities afforded the original offenders to enrich themselves by a large class of the community becoming particeps criminis. Policemen, or "detectives," in pursuing their vocation, confine their attention to the "larger game," those who make the counterfeit, next to those who sell it, and next to the smaller dealers, but entirely overlook those other persons to whom we have referred, it would seem, very naturally, they being considered honest, as the world now goes. The laws against counterfeiting are full and ample, and if rigidly enforced, and police officers do their whole duty under them, a wholesome result would not fail to follow. Let a case be made against a saloon keeper, grocer or other dealer, and an example made, and the result will be the abrogation of the rule, to pass out all counterfeit money taken in. A difficulty in the making up of such a case exists in the fact that these persons, particularly saloon keepers, rarely refuse to take back, or redeem, counterfeit money. But we think where a party would receive such money from one of them, a prosecution might immediately follow, and upon the question of "guilty knowledge" the jury might presume such, the fact being established that it was the custom at the saloon to pass out counterfeit money received.

We have knowledge of an instance of a poor widow receiving at a grocery store a fifty cent note. She questioned its genuineness, and was told by the grocer that if she could not pass it, she might return it. She made the attempt, her "milkman" refusing to take it. We saw this note, and, although not an expert, did not hesitate to pronounce it a counterfeit of the basest sort, and the grocer must be a dunce or else a knave. This, we believe, is a common practice. No strictly honest grocer would so act, and we can see no good reason why such are not equally as amenable to the law as the man who carries about him counterfeit money with a view of gain in "shoving" it upon the community.

Wife Beating.

Ellan Tennans made information yesterday before Mayor McCarthy, charging her husband, Edward Tennans, with beating and abusing her. She alleges that he has been in the habit lately of getting drunk, and comes home, out of humor with every person, and takes out his spite by abusing her. She had endured his abuse about long enough, in her estimation, and hence made the information against him. Officer McMullen, of the special police, arrested the accused, but when brought before the Mayor for a hearing, the wife had not the heart to proceed against her husband, and so withdrew the charge, and the prisoner was released.

Attempted Rape.—Officer Brown, of the Independent Police, this morning arrested John Walker, charged, on oath of Bridget Montgomery, with assault and battery with intent to commit a rape. In her information before Alderman Strain, Mrs. Montgomery alleges that on Sunday evening the defendant entered her house on Third street, attacked her, and persistently and violently endeavored to violate her person. In default of bail the prisoner was sent to jail for a hearing.

Wife Desertion.—Fredrick Carmel was was arrested yesterday and brought before the Mayor charged, on oath of his wife with having deserted her. Both parties are young and have been married but a short time. She alleges that her husband has contributed but a few dollars for her support and that of her child, since their marriage, and of late has failed to contribute anything. The accused was held to bail to answer the charge at court.

Charged With Keeping a Disorderly House.—Charles Ward and his wife Annie were arrested yesterday and brought before Alderman Lynch, charged, on oath of John Sweeney, with keeping a disorderly house. The parties were residents of Mattock's alley, in the Fourth ward. The defendant's gave bail for a hearing before the Alderman.

From Intemperance.—Alderman Butler yesterday, held an inquest on the body of Jackson McCartney, keeper of a cigar store on Arthurs street, in the Seventh Ward. Deceased had been suffering for some time from the effects of intemperance, and died rather suddenly yesterday morning. Verdict—in accordance with the facts.

Caned.—Martin Feeley, a well known citizen of the Third ward, was yesterday made the recipient of a handsome cane, as a token of esteem, by some of his fellow citizens. The presentation speech was made by Hugh Duffy, Esq., and responded to in one of Mr. Feely's happiest efforts.

Released from Custody.—John Stewart, committed to jail by Alderman Taylor, on the 7th inst., to answer a charge of malicious mischief, preferred by Adam Seizer, was yesterday released from confinement, on furnishing the security required for his appearance to answer the charge.

Arrest of the Zook Murderer.

Governor Geary received on Sunday evening the following dispatch:

To Governor Geary—

O. L. Broome, charged with the murder of the brothers Zook, has been arrested and is now here.

[Signed] ALVIN O. GILLEM,
Brev. Maj. Gen. U. S. A.

It will be remembered that the Zooks were from Lancaster, Pa., and were brutally murdered near Vicksburg, where they were operating a plantation. Gov. Geary called the attention of the Legislature to the matter, and a reward was offered for the capture of the murderer.

Fight in Allegheny.—About twelve o'clock on Monday night two men, named David McClarren and Jacob Alos, got into an exceedingly noisy fight on Ohio street, in the Third ward, and by their noisy demonstrations attracted a large crowd about them. Officer Minely, of the night police, arrested them, when David Fairman, who had been urging the combatants "to make a good fight of it," interfered and endeavored to rescue them both. He himself was taken in charge by another officer and locked up for a hearing.

QUANTITY vs. QUALITY. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT SARSAPARILLA. The dose is small. Those who desire a large quantity and large doses ERR. ap15:MWF

SPECIAL NOTICES.

☞ HELMBOLD'S

Concentrated Fluid Extract Sarsaparilla

Eradicates ERUPTIVE and ULCERATIVE DISEASES of the THROAT, NOSE, EYES, EYELIDS, SCALP and SKIN,

Which so disfigure the appearance, PURGING the evil effects of mercury and removing all taints, the remnants of DISEASES, hereditary or otherwise, and is taken by ADULTS and CHILDREN with perfect safety.

TWO TABLE-SPOONFULS of the Extract of Sarsaparilla, added to a pint of water, is equal to the Lisbon Diet Drink, and one bottle is equal to a gallon of the Syrup of Sarsaparilla, or the decoctions as usually made.

AN INTERESTING LETTER is published in the Medico-Chirurgical Review, on the subject of the Extract of Sarsaparilla in certain affections, by Ben amin Travers, F. R. S., &c. Speaking of those diseases, and diseases arising from the excess of mercury, he states that no remedy is equal to the Extract of Sarsaparilla; its power is extraordinary, more so than any other drug I am acquainted with. It is, in the strictest sense, a tonic with this invaluable attribute, that it is applicable to a state of the system so sunken, and yet so irritable as renders other substances of the tonic class unavailable or injurious.

—From an official statement made in the Treasury Department Thursday, it appears that the number of National banks organized at this date is 1,671; closing and closed, 24; whole number in active operation, 1,647; aggregate capital paid in, $422,913,861. The number of national banks qualified as depositories is 385; number heretofore depositories now in liquidation, 5; whole number of banks now in operation as depositories, 380. Under the act of August 6, 1846, there are eight assistant treasurers or officers performing the duties thereof, and twelve United States depositories.

—A general Convention of Eastern and Western railway officers was held in Cleveland during the past week—the object being to secure, if possible, the restoration of rates and the maintenance of amicable relations in regard to competing business. The Cleveland Herald thus sums up the objects and results of the Convention.

The meeting did not result in any satisfactory settlement of the questions under consideration. It was organized at 12 M., with Hon. Samuel Sloan in the Chair, and M. L. Sykes, Secretary, and from that hour until 11 o'clock in the evening a stormy debate was held. The interests of the lines are so diversified, and the representatives of each road were so strenuous in the maintenance of their respective views on the subject, that it is safe to say that they are as remote from a permanent settlement of the question as when they first met. It was believed by those having the matter in charge that the meeting would last two days, but shortly after it was open the fact became apparent that the conflicting elements could not be harmonized, consequently many delegates went home before adjournment, and many who remained did not enter into the spirit of the meeting.

The main questions were, in almost every instance, evaded by referring the same to committies and associations, for report at a future meeting, and almost every measure contained a proviso which doubtless will kill the object sought to be gained. Among the questions discussed were those relative to paying commissions to fast freight lines for the purpose of influencing freight shipments, and the abolishment of the pass system in the case of drovers, or the abolishment of all free passes given on account of freight received. These questions went into the hands of committees. An effort was made to agree upon established rates of transportation of live-stock, to be adhered to by all trunk lines and connections, the violation of which would subject the offending road to certain penalties.

A resolution was adopted, with what unanimity we are unable to state, making it obligatory upon all roads to refuse freight for the Baltimore and Ohio road, except where charges were prepaid, unless that road agreed to enter into the proposed arrangement.

The number of railway men in attendance and the magnitude of the interests involved, were larger than any previous meeting ever held in Cleveland could show.

ALLEGHENY CATTLE MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
TUESDAY, May 14, 1867.

CATTLE.

The receipts of cattle were larger this week than for several weeks past, and as the demand was restricted almost entirely to supplying the retail trade, and with few wholesale buyers in attendance, the market was a dull one, and several portions of droves were left over unsold. Compared with last week, however, prices have undergone but little change, though towards the close, slight concessions may have been made in order to effect sales. The offerings, we understand, would have been large had it not been for the difficulty in getting cars at Chicago—one firm was obliged to ship by the Pan-Handle route, being unable to get cars on the Fort Wayne road in time for their cattle to reach here for Monday's market. Prime retailing cattle sold at from 8½ to 8¾, and extra at 9 to 9¼. For stock cattle, there is a continued fair demand, and we continue to quote at 5 to 6½, as to quality and condition.

SHEEP.

The supply of Sheep was rather larger than last week, but with a very good retail demand, prices were pretty well sustained. Good retailing Sheep (shorn) may be quoted at 7 to 7¼, though one small bunch of extra, averaging 120 lbs, brought 8c. Wooled Sheep, on an average, command about one cent per pound more than those with wool off—Kerwin sold Hines 69 wooled, averaging about 100 lbs, at 8¼.

HOGS.

Market for this class of stock continues quiet but steady at last week's quotations. Anderson sold Emerick & Schwartz 49 head averaging 200 lbs, at 7¼, gross, and the latter firm retailed about 30 head at 6½ to 8, according to quality and condition.

REPORTED SALES OF CATTLE.

Glass & Lafferty retailed 38 head at 7½ to 9¼, wholesaled 14 head of extra cattle to Fairley & Slayline at 9¼; sold 4 fresh cows at $40 to $65 for cow and calf, and had 40 head left over. Carr & McAllister sold 30 head at 7½ to 9¼; Hazlewood & Blackstock, 53 at 8½ to 9¼; L. B. Dodd wholesaled 16 head of fairish extra steers at 9¼; also, 18 head of extra steers to Myers & Needy at 8¼; and retailed 30 head at 8½ to 9¼; L. Shamberg, 27 head at 8¼ to 9¼; Haas & Kraus, 61 head at 8 to 9¼; wholesaled 1 car load of cows and heifers at 8,10; Verner & Hartman, 27 head at 8,55 to 9,15; L. Rothchilds, 27 head at 8¾ to 9; Greenwald & Kahn, 80 head at 8 to 9¼; Marks Myers & Needy, 86 head, at 8,50 to 9; Marks & Trautman, 112 head, at 8,50 to 9,40—sold 16 head of extra steers to L. Shamberg at 9,40; L. Shamberg, 20 head at 5,50 to 8,50; Katz & Co., 20 head mixed stock at 5,50 to 8,50. Whole number of cattle weighed at city scales, 573 head.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
TUESDAY, May 14, 1867.

The general markets continue very dull, and there is but little prospect at present of any immediate improvement. The advices from the east are unfavorable in regard to Grain, and Corn, in which there has been large speculative operations for some weeks past, has suffered a material decline. In other articles, there are no changes worthy of special notice.

GRAIN—Wheat is quiet—no stock in this market. Oats quiet and unchanged—may be quoted at 60 to 62c, on track, and 66 to 68c, in store. Rye is in good demand at $1,65, and a round lot might bring $1,70. Barley—sale of 150 bush choice Fall at $1,35, and 1 car Shelled Corn at $1,11, delivered.

FLOUR—Is quiet but steady, with a fair local demand at previous quotations. We quote at $15,00 to $15,50 for good to choice Spring Wheat; $16 to $17 for Winter Wheat, and $19 to $20 for fancy brands. Rye Flour is firm at $9,50 to $10.

PROVISIONS—Unchanged at 9¼ cts to 9¾c for Shoulders; 11¾c to 12¼ for Ribbed and Clear Sides; 15¼ to 15½c for Plain Sugar Cured Hams; 16 to 16½c for Canvassed do, Lard 13¼ to 13½c; and Mess Pork, $23,00 to $23,50.

POTATOES—Scarce and firm with an upward tendency. In barrels, Peach Blows may be quoted at $3 to $3,25, and in sacks, at 95c to $1. Sale of 60 bbls mixed at $5,50 per bbl.

BUTTER—Is quiet and dull but unchanged. Grass Butter may be quoted at 18c to 20c for good, and 25 to 35 for prime to choice. Grease Butter, 8c to 10c, as to quality and condition.

EGGS—A shade firmer but unchanged; may be quoted at 15c, packed in oats, and 16c in straw. There is some inquiry for shipment.

DRIED FRUIT—Dull but unchanged and Peaches are drooping—sale of 11 bbls mixed at 12. Apples, 8 to 9c.

OIL—Lard Oil is steady, with regular sales by manufacturers at 87 to 88c for No. 2, and $1,08 to $1,10 for No. 1.

HAY—Quiet and unchanged. Prime Timothy Hay may be quoted at $24 to $25, on track and wharf, while common and inferior is hard to sell at any price.

BEANS—Prime small white are very scarce, and may be quoted firm at $2,90 to 3 per bushel.

SEEDS—Nothing doing in Clover or Timothy Seeds. Flaxseed is in steady demand at $3.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
TUESDAY, May 14, 1867.

CRUDE—The market continues dull and depressed, the demand both for present and future delivery being very light, while so far as prices are concerned, there is no quotable change. We continue to quote spot oil at 6¾ to 7c—sale of 600 bbls (41 gravity) at 7c, and 1300 bbls on private terms. A telegram from Oil City reported Crude firm at $2,60 at that point, at which figure there is nothing in it for a crude dealer delivered here after paying cost of transportation. As we have repeatedly stated, there will be no life or animation in the market until the price declines there or advances here, as men will not use their capital and time when there is no inducement offered, and there is certainly none in this case as is apparent to any one who will take the trouble to examine into the matter.

REFINED—The market for bonded oil continues dull and depressed, as there is but little inquiry either for present or future delivery, and if anything, prices are a shade lower. We have but a single transaction to record, a "call" for 500 bbls standard white, any time during the year 1867, buyers' option, at 29, and $1 per bbl. On Monday afternoon there was a sale of 500 bbls standard white, for immediate delivery in Philadelphia, at 28¾, and we are cognizant of an offer to sell 500 bbls standard white for first ten days of June, at 28¾. Prime light straw to white may be quoted one cent below the above quotations.

ARRIVALS—The following arrivals of oil were reported to-day:

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Dilworth & Bro. | 5500 | Fisher & Bro. | 3,800 |
| W. McCutcheon | 55 | Buffum & K. | 55 |

New York Produce Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

Flour, receipts of 2,533 bbls; the market is less active, closing a shade easier; sales of 5,100 bbls at $11,50@12,40 for superfine State and western; $12,70@14,60 for extra western; $14,70@15,80 for choice do; $14@15 for shipping brands extra R. Cut Meats; sales 360 packages at 8¾@10c. Lard heavy and lower; sales 950 bbls at 12¼@13¼c. Butter quiet and unchanged. Cheese unchanged.

Cincinnati Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, May 14.—Flour dull but prices not lower; superfine $12,75@13,50; trade brands $14,50@16,50. Wheat dull and prices nominal; some forced sales made at $3,20@$3,25 for No. 1 Red winter, but it is held generally at 15@20c. above this. The millers are doing little or nothing. Corn; very dull, and prices unsettled; sales of 200,000 bushels No. 1 mixed, at $1,03 sacked; at the close it could not be resold at over 99c. in the bulk. Market quite demoralized. ## RIVER NEWS.

The river was about at a stand at this point last evening with six feet in the channel by the Monongahela marks, and seven feet by the Allegheny marks. The Allegheny is again rising above, and as the present rain seems to be general, a rise may also be expected in the Monongahela. The weather continues wet and unsettled.

The Argosy got in yesterday morning about four o'clock with an excellent trip. She was delayed some hours by fog, and but for this would have reached here sooner. This popular boat leaves to-day as usual for Cincinnati, and passengers and shippers should bear this in mind.

The Ida Rees No. 2 arrived from Oil City, and the Urilda left for that point last evening. The Echo is due to-night.

The Kate Robinson, Capt. Robt. Robinson, with Capt. J. A. Bears, in the office, is filling up rapidly for St. Louis, and will probably be ready to leave this evening.

The report in regard to the capture of the steamer Miner and the massacre of those on board by the Indians on the Upper Missouri river, is contradicted by a gentleman who left Sioux City on the 9th. The Miner was built here some two or three years since by Captain J. H. Porter, and sold to a company at St. Louis who have been running her ever since in the Upper Missouri river trade.

The Ezra Porter, we see it stated, will load in turn at Cincinnati for New Orleans.

Scientific men predict that the summer of 1867 will be cold and wet, like that of last year. They base their prediction on the fact that immense masses of ice have broken, or are about to break away from the extreme north, producing cold and vapor.

The Richmond, on her last trip, made the run from New Orleans to Cairo in four days and eight hours, and from Cairo to Louisville in thirty six hours, making a total of five days and fifteen hours. She has filled all her engagements, and kept to her schedule time, having made two round trips to New Orleans and back in less than one month. So says the Cincinnati Gazette.

The following boats were in port at Cincinnati on Sunday: Camelia, John H. Groesbeck, Westmoreland, Pine Grove, Lizzie Hopkins, New York, Wauanita, Starlight, Golden Eagle, Nightingale, Leonora No. 2, Leonidas, Talequan, Emma No. 3, Rowena, Amazon, Anglo Saxon, Louisiana, Emerald, Ezra Porter, W F Curtis, Magnolia and Major Anderson.

The Great Republic paid the Baltic $2,000 to lay over at St. Louis Friday and Saturday. A good trip for the Baltic made in port.

The wharfmaster's report made to the Council at St. Louis, states that he received for wharfage in one year the sum of $70,006 70, out of which he expended $12,466 70, but gives no items. It will thus be seen that the collections exceeded the outlay over $65,000.

The Memphis Avalanche, of Friday, says: Evil persons, through malice, have been circulating the report that Spoon Thief Butler owned an interest in the Lee, which is false. Captain John Cannon showed us her papers yesterday, which refute all such charges. Capt. Cannon is the sole owner of this fine steamer.

The Kansas City Advertiser, of the 9th, reports the explosion, a short distance below Leavenworth, of the little sidewheel steamer Tom Morgan, with the loss of two lives. The Leavenworth Conservative of the same date pronounces the report a canard.

Sam Montgomery and J. B. Murphy have paid Sam Stillwell, of St. Louis, $9,800 for the Atlantic, for which, including a piano, he paid $7000. The Atlantic goes to Louisville, and will be dismantled. Her machinery goes into that new boat of Ford's, built by the Howards, 325 feet long, 49 feet beam, 8 feet hold. The cylinders are 30 inches diameter, 9 feet stroke.

On her last trip, the Sheridan came from Vicksburg to Cairo in forty-eight hours and thirty minutes; reports passing the Lady Gay under way.

The Mobile Times, in answer to a correspondent, says that sternwheel boats are comparatively a late thing on their waters. They were introduced on the Alabama river in 1854, and it is only within the last five years that they have been running on the Little Bigbee and Warrior. Several sternwheelers are now plying between Montgomery and New Orleans, but they carry very few passengers, owing to the danger of crossing the lake with such a craft.

It is rumored that the contracts for building three snag-boats for the United States Government, for service on the Ohio and Mississippi rivers, will be awarded as follows: Marine Railway Company, of Cincinnati, to build two hulls; Dennis Long, of Louisville, one pair of engines and machinery, and the Madison Works one pair of engines and machinery, and Wm. Jones, of New Albany, one hull.

Says the Cincinnati Commercial: Captain D. De Haven, of New Orleans, President of the Mississippi Valley Navigation Company, is at the Spencer House, explaining his new project for the construction of an immense steamer for navigating the Mississippi river between Cairo and New Orleans. The hull is to be 325 feet, over all, sixty-three feet beam, with thirteen feet depth of hold, and ample power.

The Memphis Appeal, of Friday, says: A negro with a barrel and a small box on his dray, marked for Arkansas river, was the only person seen upon the landing yesterday. The Captains of the Caldwell and Florence Traber "went for" the lot. After considerable cutting the Traber got the freight, and concluded to get away with it, which she did.

The Bellevernon and Armenia were at Louisville on Sunday last. The new towboat Boaz was to have left Louisville for New Orleans on Monday with a tow of 275,000 bushels of coal.

The Minnie and Belle were advertised to leave Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Monday.

The Importer enroute from St. Louis to Pittsburgh, was at Evansville on Sunday, as was also the America enroute for Cincinnati.

A telegram from that point says: Freight for New Orleans is very abundant, enough to load the Richmond or Republic. The Quitman and Lee will extend their trips to the city. The Quitman is expected to-morrow. The Richmond is expected in the morning from New Orleans.

MEDICAL.

CONSUMPTION!

It would take a man a lifetime to read the treatises that have been written upon this important subject, and if a sick man were to attempt it he would make himself worse by the reading, and die before he got half through. The symptoms of the disease are, hacking cough, expectoration of matter or pus, pain in one or both lungs, chilliness, burning in the palms of the hands and soles of the feet, exhausting day night sweats, hectic fever, wasting of flesh or marasmus, sometimes expectoration of blood. These are the usual outward symptoms, apparent not only to the observing physician, but to the patient's friends. There are, however, more important symptoms than these, which are only made manifest by auscultation and percussion, terms which mean, in a medical sense, thumping and listening, and they are employed outwardly in order to ascertain what is going on inside of the cavity of the chest. The signs or symptoms elicited in this way are almost surely demonstrate the true and exact condition of the respiratory organs. A perfect auscultator can not fail in ascertaining whether the Lungs are acting naturally or not. Hence it is the best method of examining the lungs. Their actual condition once discovered, the appropriate treatment is more rapidly arrived at, and every diseased part more completely under the influence of appropriate remedies. We have long been of the opinion that consumption or decay, or wasting of the bodily strength, was dependent on a depraved state of the blood, which carries, in its course, tuberculous matter, and deposits it in the lungs, or elsewhere in the body, just as calculi or stone is deposited in the bladder, a small particle of which attracts other particles, until it becomes of such offense to the natural functions as to bring on inflammatory action, which action, if it could, would carry it out of the system, and which could have been easily done in the beginning of such disease. Dr. KEYSER'S PECTORAL SYRUP is a complete and perfect cure in the forming stage of lung disease. It acts on the very principle we have stated above, by enabling the securing or carrying off organs to do a double share of work. Waste and repair are easily comprehended, and if the worn out material be carried off, and the renewing material of a proper character, there must be health and ease, the contrary of sickness and dis-ease. In many cases of consumption which have become settled, Dr. Keyser's Pectoral Syrup fails to cure, although it will do good in nearly all. He prepares a medicine called LUNG CURE or PULMONARY RESTORATIVE, which is a great tonic, and strengthens and restores the parts to be renewed, while it dissolves and carries out from the body those particles of worn out or extraneous matter, which only tend to clog or destroy it, by hindering the renewing material being deposited in its proper place.

PULMONARY CONSUMPTION, RESULTING FROM PLEURISY, CURED.

Statement of George Ford, carpenter, of No. 18 Sampson street, Allegheny City:

I took a violent attack of pleurisy, in May, 1866, which left me with a cough lasting all summer, wearing away my strength and gradually undermining my health. During this attack of pleurisy I had several physicians of the highest reputation in the city. After I had partially recovered from the pleurisy, I was advised to go into the country, which I did, and when there I called in a doctor, who told me my left lung was affected, and that if something were not done soon I would die of CONSUMPTION. I lingered on from this time until about the middle of June, my cough and lung disease gradually growing worse, and I weaker every day, and almost despairing of ever getting well. In this state of despondency, and knowing the general belief of the incurability of Consumption, and having heard of cures made by DR. KEYSER, and seeing his advertisement in the newspapers, I was induced in October last to call on the Doctor at his office, 120 Penn street, and had him examine my lungs with his "LUNG SOUND." It told me the upper lobe of my left lung was very much diseased, but he thought with great care and the perseverance in the use of his medicine I would get well. At the time I called on Dr Keyser my pulse was over one hundred and thirty beats in a minute, and I was generally prostrated, and had to cough night and day. I commenced the Doctor's treatment in October, with a feeble, broken constitution, and continued it faithfully until the present time. The Doctor's medicines helped me from the very start, and I could gradually feel myself getting stronger and my cough and expectoration lessening. I have gained greatly in flesh, and consider myself well; all the rattling of my lung has ceased, and my general health is in every way good. All my relatives and friends know of the advanced stage of my disease and my extraordinary recovery. One of the medicines given me by Dr. Keyser was a medicine called LUNG CURE which I took in connection with the other treatment.

GEORGE FORD.

PITTSBURGH, March 30, 1867.

ANOTHER CURE OF CONSUMPTION.
STATEMENT OF JOHN G. WIGHAM, OF TURTLE CREEK, ALLEGHENY COUNTY.

I was discharged from the United States army in January, 1866, on account of a wound in the head, from a shell, and a disease which the army physicians pronounced CONSUMPTION. I had a terrible cough and fell away in strength and flesh and was unable to do anything. Shortly after my return from the army, I made application to a physician of my neighborhood and, afterwards, to another in Pittsburgh of high reputation, whose remedies I used faithfully for five months, without any benefit whatever, but rather grew worse, and wasted in flesh and strength every day. In August, 1866, my mother took me to DOCTOR KEYSER, of 120 Penn street, whose skill in such cases like mine had been highly spoken of and put myself under his treatment. The Doctor examined my lungs very carefully with his LUNG SOUND, and told me that my left lung was badly diseased at the upper part, but if I was careful he thought he could cure me by following his directions closely, which I did from that day to this. I gradually improved under Dr. Keyser's medicines from the first week I commenced to take them, and my general health has improved, and my chest, where it was sunk en away, and where it pained me, has become full and strong and free from pain. I can now do a full day's work, and take great pleasure in giving my testimony in favor of Dr. Keyser's treatment and medicines.

JOHN G. WIGHAM,
Turtle Creek.

PITTSBURGH, April 11th, 1867.

A case of five years' standing cured by DR KEYSER'S PECTORAL SYRUP:

DR. KEYSER:—My wife has been afflicted with a cough and difficulty of breathing for five or six years, which, for several years back, had gradually increased in violence. The complaint has been hereditary, and she had been treated by several physicians without any relief. In this state of her case I procured some of your PECTORAL COUGH SYRUP. I bought the first time a fifty cent bottle, which relieved her very much; I then called and got a dollar bottle, which cured her entirely, and she has now no trace of the former disease, except weakness. I would also state that I used the medicine myself to a cold and cough. The medicine cured me by taking one dose. I express my entire satisfaction with the medicine, and you are at liberty to publish this if you desire to do so.

WM. WILSON,
Alderman, Fifth Ward.

Our son, JAMES PAINTER, some three years ago was afflicted with consumption of the lungs, for which he was discharged from the army. He was examined by four army physicians, who all agreed that he must die with the disease. We brought him to Dr. KEYSER, 140 Wood street, (now 120 Penn street,) who, after sounding his lungs, commenced to treat him, and cured him sound and well. He is now well and has been so for the past three years. Others afflicted in like manner can likewise be cured.
